SERVING THE BLACK COMMUNITY WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOR SINCE 1947

February 13 - 19, 2014

YES WE SERVED!

ARMY, MARINE CORPS, NAVY, AIR FORCE & COAST GUARD

The African-American Civil War Memorial, Washington, DC

YES, WE SERVED in the Mexican War. Many of the blacks in the army during the Mexican War were servants of the officers who received government compensation for the services of their servants as slaves. Also, soldiers from the Louisiana Battalion of Free Men of Color participated in this war. Blacks also served on a number of navel vessels during this war, including the U. S. S. Treasure and the U.S.S. Columbus.

YES, WE SERVED in the Civil War to ensure that all Americans would have the opportunity to be free and live in peace and with dignity; our efforts helped to provide a united government where laws based on human rights could be enforced throughout our country. The history of African-Americans in the U.S. Civil War is marked by 186,097 African-American men, comprising 163 units, who served in the Union Army during the Civil War, and many more African-Americans served in the Union Navy.

YES, WE SERVED in the Indian Wars. From the late 1860s to the early 20th century, African-American units were utilized by the United States Government to combat the Native Americans during the Indian Wars. The most noted of this group were the Buffalo Soldiers: 9th Cavalry Regiment, 10th Cavalry Regiment, 24th Infantry Regiment, 25th Infantry Regiment. YES, WE SERVED in the Spanish American War. After the Indians Wars ended in the 1890s, the same regiments that participated in the Indian Wars continued to serve and participate in the Spanish American War (including the Battle of San Juan Hill), where five more medals of honor were earned. These soldiers took part in the 1916 Punitive Expedition into Mexico and in the Philippine-American War.

US Military Black Service Members - Past and Present

The introduction of Blacks in the U.S. Army, Then and Now begins with the following excerpt, which provides some basic information on Blacks in military service. Mapped against the obstacles that all African Americans faced from this country's inception until now, we can appreciate the tremendous challenges that Black service members faced and the greatness of their successes. Their accomplishments should make every American proud. Introduction The history of Blacks serving in the United States Army is a long and proud one. In 1776, Congress passed legislation that allowed Black men to enlist in the Armed Services. In response to this Congressional Act, approximately 7,000 Black men joined the Army and defended America in the Revolutionary War. Then, in the last 1800's, six regiments consisting of black Soldiers were established. These Soldiers became known as the "Buffalo Soldiers". Thirty-nine of the Buffalo Soldiers were awarded the highly prestigious Congressional Medal of Honor. Continues Next Week.....

TO OUR READERS, SUPPORTERS AND ADVERTISERS,
The next four issues will salute thousands and thousands of African Americans, U.S. Service Men and Women & Veterans who served this country with dignity, pride, excellence and honor. The pictorial issues will be published February 6, 13, 20 and 27th during Black History Month. These issues are designed to start conversation about Men and Women who served this country.

'Dallas' Too Busy Growing To Hate

EDITORIAL PAGE

DEAR EDITOR:

Dear Editor,

A new report from the American Cancer Society predicts that breast cancer will likely affect more Texans than any other cancer in 2014. But it doesn't have to.

Studies have shown a link between high cholesterol and breast cancer, and scientists say the research suggests that women may be able to reduce breast cancer risk by either taking cholesterol-lowering drugs or eating a healthy, low-cholesterol diet.

Personally, I would rather up my intake of colorful meals than colorful medicines. Fruits and vegetables have zero cholesterol, which is just one reason why you'll find scores of them on lists of "cancer-fighting foods." Whole grains are cholesterol-free too. In fact, no plant product contains any cholesterol.

But meat, eggs, and dairy products all pack a cholesterol punch. A single egg has 212 milligrams, three and a half ounces of shrimp has 194, and three and a half ounces of chicken liver delivers a whopping 631 milligrams.

I lost the person that I was closest to, my grandmother, to breast cancer when she was just 64 years old. So reducing my breast cancer risk is important to me. And cutting animal products out of my diet is an easy way to do that.

Going vegan is one of the best decisions I've ever made, and I hope that, until there is a cure for breast cancer, others will join me in taking this important step for their health.

Sincerely,
Michelle Kretzer

MAKING FUTURE BLACK HISTORY NOW

and their heroic struggles to make sure our stories were told - accurately. We know of Madame C.J. Walker, A.G. Gaston, Alonzo Herndon, Oprah, Bob Johnson, Herman Russell and the empire builders of the business world.

But today I want to give a Black History shout out to the millions of nameless, faceless business women and men who rose before dawn and got home long after everyone was asleep. The barbers, hairdressers, shopkeepers, brick masons, carpenters, café owners, mechanics, painters, printers, shoe shine fellows and repairmen. The tailors, grocers, ice, coal and wood deliverymen.... All the folks whose toils paved the way for us, paid the tuition to Howard, Morehouse, Johnson C. Smith, Fisk, Xavier, Dillard, FAMU and all the "A&M's" across the south!

After nearly 50 years of successfully aspiring to "good jobs," we are witnessing a boom in the numbers of Black Americans returning to our roots as entrepreneurs and business owners, and this boom couldn't have come at a better time. When it's clear that government solutions to income inequality fail to factor in or include us; when Black un- and underemployment threaten the nutritional health and educational opportunities for our children; when globalization of markets consigns our participation to the role of consumers, that's when it should become clear the key role that Black business plays in our communities. The U.S. Black Chambers, Inc. (USBC) is acutely aware of the battle that African Americans face in the marketplace today. When online purchases of clothing eclipses the purchases made inside actual stores, the opportunities for Black retailers practically disappears. Despite the obvious love affair Black folks have with hats, suits, shoes and boots, it is Nordstrom, Macy's, Neiman's and local designer boutiques that get their share of our income inequity, not Black-owned clothes sellers.

We struggle to find a Black-owned grocery chain, even though African Americans spend a disproportionate share of their disposable income on food. Black-owned restaurants are an increasingly endangered species, even as national chains pad their bottom lines with the lion's share of our discretionary spending on food, including sushi.

Black automobile dealers fare a little better, though the 80s and 90s wreaked havoc on the number of franchised dealerships owned by African Americans. Without question, we continue to provide the comfortable profit cushion, particularly for luxury brand automobiles. (Remember, every dollar earned without advertising/marketing effort to earn that dollar is FREE MONEY!) Telecom companies, high-end electronics, "luxury" liquors, condo sellers and jewelers all positively salivate when their coffers fill up with Black dollars.

Among the goals of the USBC, entrepreneur development is the loftiest and most elusive. But we believe if we are successful at reigniting our passion for business ownership, we will have the best opportunity to solve the challenges faced by Black America. The record of our ability to build colleges, insurance companies and hospitals proves that when necessary, we can achieve monumental "wins" through collective entrepreneurial activity. And - in today's terminology - joint ventures, mergers and acquisitions provide the context for our next collective steps in business growth.

So, we at the USBC and our affiliates across the country encourage you to be more mindful, and more intentional as you pursue your dreams. Understand that 20, 50, 100 years from now someone will read the record of your contribution to life as they know it, and the fact that you made a lot of money won't be enough to get your name in the record book. Business ownership opens doors of opportunity, not just for you and your family, but the families of your employees, associates, customers/clients, vendors and suppliers. That improved quality of life affords access to opportunities for education, earning, travel and the new worlds they discover will create future generations of inventors and history makers. Black History is made and celebrated every day... make sure that your everyday actions pave the way.

- Credo of The Black Press
The Black Press believes that America can best lead the world away from racial and national antagonisms when it accedes to every person, regardless of race, color or creed, full human and legal rights. Hating no person, fearing no person, the Black Press strives to help every person in the firm belief that all are hurt as long as anyone is held back.

As America continues to celebrate the countless achievements of African Americans during Black History Month, it makes sense to remind each other that the things we do every day will be the historical recollections for future generations.

There is no question of the value of recounting the daring exploits, the against-all-odds battles won, or of revisiting the horrors and brutalities that marked our journey through this country's history. I just don't believe that enough of us approach our daily commitments with an eye on how our actions - or inactions - will impact the lives of Black Americans in the future.

I could fill this space with the names of prodigious Black inventors, from Jan Matzeliger to Norbert Rilleaux, Garrett Morgan to Dr. Mark Dean. We all know the contributions of Samuel Cornish and John Russwurm and their Freedom's Journal, the Sengstackes, the Murphys, the Vanns, the Scotts, the John H. Johnsons and the Earl G. Graves

Building on CHIP's Success

when needed and provided peace of mind for the hardworking father, whose income can vary wildly from month to month and year to year. CHIP has given him security knowing his children are getting the care they need without breaking the bank. The wife says, "The kids wouldn't have had health insurance if it wasn't for CHIP."

There are more than 8 million children with stories like this. To survive and thrive, all children need access to comprehensive, affordable health coverage that is easy to get and keep. Unmet health and mental health needs can result in children falling behind developmentally and having trouble catching up physically, emotionally, socially, and academically. And it can mean life or death for children from preventable disease and illness.

CHIP has strong bipartisan roots. It was created in 1997 when Democrats and Republicans, led by Senators Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) and Ted Kennedy (D-Mass.), came together to create a system of health coverage for children whose families earned too much to qualify for Medicaid but too little to be able to buy health coverage that today costs on average more than $16,000 a year for a family of four in the individual market. CHIP continues to provide crucial support for millions of working families: 92 percent of all children enrolled in CHIP had at least one parent employed during the last year. Since its creation CHIP has helped cut the number of uninsured children in half, to the lowest level on record, while improving child health outcomes and access to care.

By preserving and strengthening CHIP and Medicaid and creating new coverage options for parents, access to health coverage is now available for 95 percent of all children in America. But eligibility and access to coverage do not guarantee enrollment. While 42 million children are enrolled in CHIP and Medicaid, more than 8 million in CHIP alone, more than 7 million children under 19 are still uninsured. Nearly 70 percent of these uninsured children are eligible for but not enrolled in CHIP or Medicaid.

We know health-related problems can lead to poor academic performance and that uninsured children are more likely to perform poorly in school than children with coverage. CDF has partnered with AASA, The School Superintendents Association, to link uninsured children with health coverage by adding a question to school enrollment forms asking whether children have health coverage and helping connect uninsured students with coverage.

Although CHIP is authorized through 2019, its funding is running out and will virtually disappear by October 2015 unless Congress takes immediate action. If funding is not continued, millions of children would lose health coverage and millions more would likely receive less comprehensive coverage at significantly higher cost. Either would be an enormous step backwards for children. Congress must act this year to keep CHIP funding for millions of families and prevent uncertainty and discontinuity for children, parents, or states about CHIP's future.

When CHIP was reauthorized in February 2009, President Obama correctly said: "No child in America should be receiving her primary care in the emergency room in the middle of the night. No child should be falling behind in school because he can't hear the teacher or see the blackboard. I refuse to accept that millions of our kids fail to reach their potential because we fail to meet their basic needs. In a decent society, there are certain obligations that are not subject to tradeoffs or negotiations - health care for our children is one of those obligations."

Let's celebrate CHIP's track record of success the common sense way by acting now to ensure CHIP in states across the country can continue the good work.

"THE PSALMIST'S SUPREME CONFIDENCE IN THE STEADFAST CHARACTER OF GOD" PSALM 61:1-8

The word of God informs us in 1 Corinthians 10:4 that the "Rock" is Jesus Christ, that verse reads, "And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ."

In verses 1-2, David expresses his feeling of being weak and he prays to the Lord for strength and safety, "Hear my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer" (v. 1). David petitions to be led to a place of safety; thus, he wanted to be led to the "Rock" that is higher than he was, "when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I" (v. 2). In times of deep trouble and distress, we need God's steadfast protection, for Psalm 17:8 says, "Keep me under the shadow of thy wings."

Yes, as the storms of life rage,

we need God's comfort and assurance as He grants to us His unfailing mercy, for Psalm 57:1 states, "Be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast." David experienced tremendous spiritual relief in the above examples by placing his faith in the steadfast character of God. God will never abandon His saint and one can be assured of God's presence in any situation, in that Hebrews 13:5-6 says, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me."

Having expressed his weakness, David declares his confidence in the steadfast character of God, his only source of protection (vv. 3-4). David knew that God was indeed a sure hiding place against his enemies as verse 3 states, "For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy." God's presence is a sure place of safety for all believers! Because of the Lord's faithful promise to him, in verse 5-7, David was confident of God's protection in prolonging his life; thus, David's life will be sustained by God's love and faithfulness, "Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations" (v. 6).

Because of the Lord's faithfulness toward him, David vows to sing and to praise the Lord for His deliverance, "So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows" (v. 8).

May God Bless!

A Little Bit of Faith: : You Are Loved

hear God's voice, experience His love and compassion for His people, and to see how our hope is built on His son Jesus Christ. All of us have a strong desire to be loved. We want a sincere love, a love that will never end, and a love that will stand the test of time.

Since we all desire to be loved, Valentine's Day can leave many of us feeling unloved and not wanted. But if we move toward the Word of God, He can help us to see that His perfect love for us is all that we need. There is no need for us to feel lonely or unloved. He loves us more completely and more deeply than anyone ever can.

Therefore, in First John, it reminds us that God loves us completely. "We have known and believed the love that God has for us. God is love" (1 John 4:16). The purest, most honest, and most joyful love that we can ever experience is the love that our Heavenly Father has for us. As a matter of fact, God's love for us always has action. He does not give us lip service, he shows us. The major way God has shown how much He loves us is by giving us His only Son Jesus. Jesus was born of a virgin, lived among us, crucified, and He rose again.

So if you were feeling a little lonely, unloved, and unwanted this past Valentine's Day, cheer up. Know that you have a greater love. The love of God! Amen.

Dallas Mayor Mike Rawlings Launches Task Force to Fight Against Poverty

CONGRESSMAN JOHN LEWIS WILL SPEAK AT PRAYER BREAKFAST

By Congresswoman Eddie Bernice Johnson

The scripture, "We who are strong must bear the infirmities of the weak, and not seek to please ourselves," defines the life's work of the last surviving speaker at the 1963 March on Washington. Georgia Congressman John Lewis is a civil rights icon who played a key role during that march, and in the movement that changed America. On February 24th, Congressman John Lewis, will be in Dallas to speak at my 21st annual prayer breakfast. During his speech 50 years ago, Congressman Lewis echoed the sentiments of that scripture. Congressman Lewis talked about the necessity of improving the lives of sharecroppers who worked for less than three dollars each day, and for maids who worked full-time but earned only $5.00 each week while cleaning the homes of others. The then 23 year-old student, demanded that the Congress of the United States pass "meaningful legislation" that would give millions of people an opportunity to escape the ravages of poverty, find jobs, and become members of the middle class. He was not asking the government to give people a handout, but instead he asked for a level playing field so that all Americans could get a hand up. Congressman Lewis's speech, his work, and the work of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and so many others, led President Lyndon Baines Johnson to declare a "war on poverty" which, with the aid of a compassionate and willing Congress, offered millions of American citizens an open hand so that their lives, and the lives of their children might improve. These same fights for a livable minimum wage and equal pay for women are still being fought today, 50 years later. During his recent State of the Union address President Barack Obama, who was weeks short of his second birthday during the 1963 march, asked a joint session of Congress to give poor working class Americans a livable minimum wage, and to confront the blatant reality of income inequality in America that grows rapidly each day. A recent written report stated that nearly 24 percent of all inner-city residents in Dallas live below the poverty line. The numbers are similar to those found in many of our larger cities, and rural areas. I know that you will agree with me when I say that the situation is unacceptable and must be addressed and rectified. This is an issue that my fellow Democrats in Congress and I are focused on. In 1963, a youthful John Lewis marched for "jobs and freedom." He is coming to Dallas because the reasons for the march are still uncompleted. No doubt he will use the same words that he articulated on August 28th, 1963 when he concluded his speech by saying, "Wake up America! Wake up!"

TEN EDUCATORS TO BE INDUCTED INTO THE AFRICAN AMERICAN EDUCATION ARCHIVES AND HISTORY PROGRAM 2014 HALL OF FAME

Each year efforts of the African American Education Archives and History Program remind the public that African American education in Dallas County came at a high price over more than a century and a half of Dallas County history, and that many heroic and dedicated African American educators willingly paid that price for past, present and future generations. The Hall of Fame is one of five components that comprise the African American Education Archives and History Program that was initiated in 2002 and will observe its 12th Anniversary this year. The Hall of Fame honors both educators and other individuals who have significantly promoted and enhanced African American education throughout Dallas County history. The African American Museum at Fair Park co-sponsors the Program's five components and houses the Hall of Fame Exhibit. The other four components are:

• Oral History Project
• Archives and History
• Exhibits and Media
• Curriculum Development
Program officials are proud to announce nine 2014 Hall of Fame living and deceased inductees. All 2014 honorees will be saluted at an induction ceremony and banquet at 12 Noon, Saturday, April 12, 2014 at Hilton Garden Inn, 800 N. Main St, Duncanville, Texas 75116. Tickets are $50 and include Lunch. A table for 10 is $500. Deadline for dinner reservations is April 3. Deceased inductees are Dr. H. Rhett James, Lawrence W. Muckelroy, and Dr. C. B. T. Smith. Living inductees are Arthur Gillum, Dr. Janice Pettis Ingram, Jowanda Jordan, Martha J. Lee, Col. Joe D. Sasser, Robert Thomas, and Dr. George O. Willis. The public may make tax-exempt contributions "in honor of" or "in memory of" any person you choose for a minimum of $25. The deadline is March 25. Make contributions payable to AAEAHP and mail to AAEAHP, P.O. Box 411091, Dallas, TX 75241.

TEXAS A&M HONOR CEDRIC COLLINS' SCHOLARSHIP

Cedric Collins committed to Texas A&M in August 2012.

After the playoffs that year, numbness in his legs led him to a trip to the doctor; he had a rare congenital cervical abnormality.

Doctors told him would never play football again.

Even though Collins will never play for the Aggies in College Station, the school has decided to honor his scholarship.

MY DAY: MISSION TO BISHOP

ers commented that 'Sammie was always on a mission'. That is sincerely a true statement shared by many who have been witness to and shares in his triumphant amazing journey.

Bishop Evans, the 6th of nine children from El Dorado, Arkansas, moved with his family to Dallas when he was a young rising prodigy. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Military, he entered into study at Southern Bible Institute, onward to secure his Bachelor and Masters of Theology from Anchor Theological Seminary. Distinguished clergy and worshippers across Texas and beyond know and love Bishop Evans. He has a big wide grin complimented with a genuine tone. Church families in and around the DFW metroplex are in annual fellowship with his church. His family and friends are so very proud. He loves sports. It was in the Army that he accepted his calling to the ministry. But, Bishop Evans is a "rock star" of the gospel because he has had a reserved seat in some of the most renowned pulpits in the northern hemisphere.

Where you go in life is directly related to where you have been and who you hang around. Bishop Evans was mentored and monitored by such giants in the ministry as Dr. CAW Clark, former pastor of Good Street Baptist Church, the first mega church in the DFW area. He was in the midst of and copied the image of known esteemed pastors, all deceased now, such as Rev. B. J. Bradford, Dr. S. M. Wright, Rev. CBT Smith and his uncle, Rev. A. V. Voice, of Greater New Zion Baptist Church for 42 years.

Being a 21st Century change maker, Bishop Evans' global consciousness has taken him abroad, including parts of Africa. On the home front, locally and nationally, his awards and professional recognitions are too numerous to list. Bishop Evans and his wife are the proud parents of three children. Let . . .the Bishop's reign began. The mission continues.

My Day
By Dr. Ester Davis

Clearly the talk of the town . . . our 2014 African American History Series opens with a standing ovation for Bishop Samuel Evans, who was inducted into the College of Bishops in a sacred ceremony with bishops and presbyters (ordained elders) in attendance. The service of Episcopal Consecration to the Office of Bishop was held November 11, 2013, in the church he founded and still pastors in Paris, Texas.

When news of Bishop Evans elevation to a higher calling landed in the DFW area, one of Dallas eld-
