CONGRESSWOMAN EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON RECOGNIZES THE TWO YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT

Congresswoman Eddie Bernice Johnson released the following statement on the second anniversary of the Affordable Care Act, which will be observed on Friday, March 23, 2012:

"In the two short years since the enactment of the Affordable Care Act, there have been historic advancements in our Nation's health care system. With this legislation, young adults have access to their parents' health care coverage, seniors have access to free annual wellness visits, small business employers can receive tax benefits to provide health insurance for their employees, and patients with pre-existing conditions will be covered in 2014. Insurance companies will no longer be able to terminate women's coverage when they get sick or pregnant, and seniors have more options to receive care. Under the Affordable Care Act, 86 million Americans are receiving free preventive services, such as check-ups and cancer screenings. Seniors in the "donut hole" have saved $2.1 billion on prescription drugs, an average of $604 per senior. Texans are saving more than $1.3 million in health care costs (an average of $639.36 per beneficiary), and 210,700 Texans are directly saving on their Medicare prescriptions. As a registered nurse, I understand how critical these benefits are. Patients now have more freedom and control over their health care choices than ever before.

As we celebrate the anniversary of the Affordable Care Act this week, we should reflect on the progress made in this country and acknowledge how this legislation has been able to provide health care to millions of Americans."

SPRING IS HERE!

March 20, 2012 marked the first day of spring! Spring is one of the four temperate seasons, the transition period between winter and summer. Spring and "springtime" refer to the season, and broadly to ideas of rebirth, renewal and regrowth. At the spring equinox, days are close to 12 hours long with day length increasing as the season progresses.

THE LAWS OF CONSUMER POWER IN MOTION

Let's give a shout out to English mathematician Sir Isaac Newton who, way back in 1687, developed the Theories of Black Consumer Power. Well, ok, if you want to get technical about it he didn't name it that. He named it The Three Laws of Motion. But wow, do they explain a lot about your consumer power.

Newton's First Law of Motion, otherwise known as the Law of Inertia, states "an object at rest will remain at rest unless acted on by an unbalanced force." The Second Law of Motion essentially says "motion acceleration is produced when a force acts on a mass. The greater the mass the greater the amount of force needed to move the object." And the Third Law of Motion is "for every action there is an equal (and opposite) reaction." Those of you who read this column regularly, immediately, see the connection between Newton's Three Laws of Motion and your power, right? For those of you who need a little help read on.

Globally, Nielsen measures what consumers like you watch and buy. Our clients -- advertisers, networks, major corporations and retailers -- pay us for this information to help them best determine which programs, services and/or products to provide you. This is a clear case of the Third Law: "for every action (whatever/wherever/whenever you watch or buy something) there is an equal and opposite reaction (companies determine where and whether to provide more or less of a program, product or service or advertising dollars based on your action).

But what if you don't like how a company is reacting to your actions? For example, African-Americans watch 40% more TV than others (action) but we don't often see people who look like us or positive images of ourselves portrayed on television (an opposite reaction). Then you should invoke the First Law which says: An object in motion continues in motion with the same speed and in the same direction unless acted upon by an unbalanced force." YOU can be the unbalanced force. Stop watching the programs that don't portray positive images. Tell your kids to stop watching them too! Speak up when products aren't in your stores, or when the stores themselves aren't in your neighborhoods. Unless you do something to throw things off balance they will continue in the same direction.

Nielsen recently released The State of the African-American Consumer Report, a groundbreaking, in-depth, first-of-its kind study developed in collaboration with the National Newspaper Publishers Association. It highlights the buying power and areas where Blacks over-index (or use more of) specific products and services.

- We make more shopping trips annually each year (167) than other households
- 1/3 of all African-Americans own a smartphone (that's 14 million of us ya'll!)
- We talk more on our mobile phones than whites (1300 minutes vs. 606)
- We tend to be brand loyal

But companies may not be reacting accordingly: In the advertising industry, money spent on television advertising alone reached $69 billion in 2010. But for African-American media? Only $1.9 billion was spent totality for all media buys:

- $916 million on TV
- $704 million on spot radio
- $362 million in national magazines

When it comes to advertising, some companies are doing it right: Procter & Gamble remained number one in African-American media buys, followed by L'Oreal (SoftSheen Carson by the way is a L'Oreal brand), Johnson & Johnson, General Motors and McDonald's were the top five companies who advertised to the African-American market. Their ads have people who look like us in them and we can find their products and/or services in our neighborhoods.

We have to move other companies in this same positive direction. That's not always easy. But the Second Law of Motion, which I've dubbed The David versus Goliath Law can be helpful. It basically says, the bigger something is the more force you're going to have to exert to move it. You or I alone may not be able to get more advertising dollars going to Black Media. You or I alone may not be able to get the images changed on the screen. But collectively, with a projected spending power of $1.1 trillion by 2015? Lordy, what a force we can be!

What does it take to get you into motion? Download The State of the African American Consumer Report at www.nielsen.com/africanamerican or look for an excerpt of it as an insert in your local Black newspaper. And then get moving. More power to you.

ATTENTION DART CUSTOMERS: DART'S FAIR SHARE PARKING STARTS APRIL 2, 2012

DART customers who don't live in one of the agency's 13 cities and choose to park at either Parker Road or North Carrollton/Frankford stations will begin paying for parking on Monday, April 2.

As DART's rail system continues to expand parking space has at times been limited at specific locations. Establishing paid-parking helps the agency meet the demand that riders outside DART's service area have placed on the rail system while rewarding other residents for their city's commitment to DART.

Customers living in DART cities of Addison, Carrollton, Cockrell Hill, Dallas, Farmers Branch, Garland, Glenn Heights, Highland Park, Irving, Plano, Richardson, Rowlett and University Park will continue to park for free in unreserved spots, but must first apply for a parking permit sticker with DART's contractor, Platinum Parking, to avoid any parking fees.

Customers living outside DART's service area, or service area residents without a parking permit, will be required to pay a daily fee of $2 or a monthly parking fee of $40.

Platinum Parking representatives are already at Parker Road and North Carrollton/Frankford stations weekdays from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. to help process applications. More information on the paid parking pilot is available online at www.DART.org/PaidParking or by calling DART Customer Information at 214-979-1111.

WELLS FARGO CELEBRATES 160 YEARS OF SERVICE

Wells Fargo & Company (NYSE: WFC) marked a milestone anniversary of 160 years, on Monday, March 19, 2012, helping customers succeed financially and communities thrive with a series of donations and volunteer activities across the nation.

In celebration of 160 years of service, Wells Fargo is donating more than $2.5 million to more than 60 nonprofit organizations across the U.S. In some regions, eligible Wells Fargo customers helped determine how pools of $160,000 were divided among local nonprofits by voting at Wells Fargo ATMs. In addition, Wells Fargo will donate, build or renovate 160 homes in the communities it serves over the course of 160 days.

"We've been working with our customers and communities to help them succeed financially since 1852," said Chairman and CEO John Stumpf. "Through the years, we've put our customers first, and we'll continue to do so as we look ahead to the next 160 years of service. Our celebration includes ways to honor our customers, communities and team members and says thank you for being with us over time."

The company also is organizing local volunteer activities for team members across the country in celebration of the anniversary. The activities address needs that are important to our team members, customers and communities including affordable housing, sustainable environments, hunger assistance, and education. Among the many volunteer opportunities, in some regions Wells Fargo team members collectively are volunteering 160 hours at local food banks, and in others they are visiting 160 classrooms to read to students and provide financial education lessons.

Wells Fargo team members also took part in a company-wide poll, which determined how the company would distribute $160,000 among three national non-profit organizations. As a result of the voting, Feeding America® will receive $100,000, and Semper Fi Fund and Teach for America will each receive $30,000.

Founded as a banking and express company on March 18, 1852, in New York City, Wells Fargo opened its first western office on the waterfront of Gold Rush San Francisco on July 13, 1852, the site of the company's current headquarters. With the merger of Wachovia, Wells Fargo once again serves customers coast to coast.

"From East to West and back again, Wells Fargo has always strived to move our customers forward toward financial success by providing outstanding service," Stumpf said. "In the 1860's Henry Wells was asked what it takes to succeed in business. He said, 'There is one very powerful business rule. It is concentrated in the word courtesy.' Today we call it 'service.'"

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor:

Declawing is a painful mutilation that involves severing not just a cat's nails, but whole phalanges (up to the first joint), including bones, ligaments, and tendons. Depriving cats of these necessary and important body parts can cause personality changes (some cats become depressed, withdrawn, fearful, or refuse to use their litter boxes), difficulty balancing and walking, and chronic back and joint pain as the cat's shoulder, leg, and back muscles weaken. Cats may not have thumbs, but they deserve to keep all the digits they were born with. Claws, couches, and curtains can coexist peacefully if you trim the tips off cats' claws weekly, provide plenty of scratching posts, and cover furniture with contact paper or another slippery material temporarily, if needed. "Then Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in front of the whole assembly of Israel, spread out his hands toward heaven and said: 'O Lord, God of Israel, there is no God like you in heaven above or on earth below-you who keep your covenant of love with your servants who continue wholeheartedly in your way..." (1 Kings 8:22-23).

A Little Bit of Faith: The Prayer of Solomon

King Solomon is praying to God before the Israelites. While he is doing this, King Solomon is praising God for all God has done for Israel and reminding God of the covenant He has with the people who continue to follow Him. Solomon reminds God of the promise God made to his father David. Solomon does all of this because he wants God to bless the temple that his father David could not build because David's hands were too "bloody" (1 Chronicles 28:3). The temple was to be a place where God could dwell.

Sometimes, when we pray, we may forget to praise God for all He has done for us or for who He is. However, as we can see with Solomon's prayer, this is an important aspect of prayer. As Solomon continues to pray, we realize that it's a prayer of dedication and thankfulness. Solomon is thankful to God for allowing him, Solomon, to be able to build the temple in order for God to be able to have a place where He can dwell and God's people can come and pray to have their prayers answered. Solomon's prayer is not selfish. His prayer includes others.

How do you pray? Do you pray to the Father in a selfish way? Or do you pray to the Father to praise Him, thank Him, and acknowledge His goodness? Finally, do you pray so that you can spend some quality time with your heavenly Father? If you get a chance, read Solomon's entire prayer. See what God speaks to your heart about the way you pray. Amen? Amen.

Rev. John Calvin Smith

Through His mighty death and resurrection, Christ provided the means to fulfill all God's promises to Israel. Also, Christ came "that the Gentiles might glorify God for His mercy" (v. 9). God had no promises to confirm to the Gentiles because He had given no covenants as He had Israel (Romans 9:4-5; Ephesians 2:11-12). Any spiritual blessings they enjoy arise solely out of His mercy (Ephesians 2:4). Our Lord's coming confirmed God's truth for the covenant people (Jews) and granted His mercy to those He would graciously bless through His people (see Genesis 12:3).

"A SURVEY OF THE BOOK OF ROMANS" Romans 15:13 Paul's Exhortation to Serve and Honor Part II

Continuing this great subject of God's inclusion of the Gentiles in being blessed through the covenants and promises of God, Paul quoted four Old Testament passages, namely: Psalm 18:49, Deuteronomy 32:43, Psalm 117:1, and Isaiah 11:10. These passages were quoted to establish the fact that God mercifully included Gentiles in the blessings that flowed from Israel's covenants (vs. 9-12). Paul closes this section with a wonderful benedictory prayer, having taught on the subject of Christian unity. In verse 13, God is "the God of Hope" because we (Christians) have accepted Christ as Saviour;

thus, we have the assurance of eternal life. Paul prayed that God might give these believers the full measure of joy and peace. Believing is the key to spiritual joy and peace. As we apply this benediction let us exercise faith in the God of hope, who alone brings joy and peace to all our relationships. And as we submit to the Holy Spirit's power, let us remain focused as we look "for that blessed hope," the appearing of Jesus Christ (Titus 2:13). May God Bless!

"A Healthy Start: Protecting Great Gains for Children in the Affordable Care Act"

Marian Wright Edelman

Since our founding almost forty years ago, the Children's Defense Fund has fought to ensure that all children in America receive the healthy start they need and deserve. Next week marks the second anniversary of the Affordable Care Act (ACA), the federal health reform legislation, which has been a giant national step forward in reaching that goal. Although not yet fully implemented, millions of children have already benefited and millions more will be helped as additional benefits take effect in 2014. But these gains and a number of Medicaid protections that millions of Americans rely on could all be erased by challenges to the ACA and Medicaid in the U.S. Supreme Court this month. Some health reform opponents seek to undo decades of progress which would have far-reaching impact on children and an especially devastating impact on children of color.

The ACA protects and strengthens Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), which have been lifelines to millions of children and their families especially in the current recession. In the last year more than 1.5 million children gained health coverage through Medicaid and CHIP, bringing the number of uninsured children in America—still far too high—to the lowest on record even before many of the benefits of the new law kick in. Under the ACA, Medicaid will see the largest expansion in 2014 since its creation in 1965, and Americans with incomes below 133% of the federal poverty level will be eligible for Medicaid coverage. This is crucial because before the ACA's enactment, Medicaid wasn't a guaranteed safety net available for everyone who fell on really hard times.

The ACA is especially important for children of color, soon to be the majority of children in America, who constitute more than half of all children enrolled in Medicaid and CHIP. Right now, shocking health disparities for poor children of color begin in infancy: Black babies are more than twice as likely as White babies to die before their first birthday and the Black infant mortality rate in 2007 was about the same as the White infant mortality rate thirty years ago. One in six Hispanic children and one in eight Black children remain uninsured compared to one in 14 White children. Hispanic children are 76 percent more likely and Black children are 50 percent more likely than White children to have an unmet medical need due to cost, and Black and Hispanic children are almost three times as likely as White children to be in poor or only fair health. The fully implemented health reform law will help close these life and death gaps and must be preserved.

From a Biblical Perspective: False Teachings

ence to the last things. False teachers have woven elaborate and intricate theories pertaining to this crucial period, including the following:

- (1) Premillennialism. The general theory of premillennialism holds that when Christ comes again, he will establish an earthly kingdom in the city of Jerusalem, he will rule from the literal throne of David, and his reign will continue for a period of a thousand years, after which the final state will begin. The word itself suggests that the coming of Christ will be "pre," that is, before the millennium or thousand-year reign. Thus according to the premillennialists, Christ will come to establish his kingdom and to commence his reign.

(2) The Rapture and Tribulation. Some premillennialists also believe that prior to the coming of Christ there will be a "rapture" of the saints, that is, they will be caught up with the Lord in the clouds for a seven-year period during which there will be a great tribulation upon the earth, at the end of the seven-year period, the Lord will come "with" his saints to inaugurate his earthly kingdom. This view of premillennialism is often called dispensationalism.

Nielsen Column: Digital Shoppers R Us

entertainment, etc. You name it. But, our fingers still do the walking, alright - on our phones.

According to new Nielsen mobile research, in addition to talking and texting, American smartphone owners are whipping out these handy little devices and trolling retail apps and websites to shop, research products and product reviews, compare prices, find retail locations and redeem coupons. "Mobile shopping has reached scale and is only going to grow as smartphone penetration continues to rise," according to John Burbank, Nielsen's president of strategic initiatives. Here's what Nielsen data shows:

- During the 2011 holiday season, the top retail apps and websites combined - Amazon, Best Buy, eBay, Target and Walmart - reached nearly 60% of smartphone owners.
- Both men and women prefer retailers' mobile websites over mobile apps; though men are more likely to opt for the apps over women.
- Female smartphone owners prefer Target and Walmart mobile websites, while Best Buy skews male. Amazon and eBay appeal to both.
- While we, as shoppers, still use traditional forms of marketing like direct mail and newspaper ads, we are nearly twice as likely (60%) to read a retailers' email than those colorful paper circulars in the stores (30%).

•More than 30% of shoppers are actively researching online while shopping (talk about advanced multi-tasking).

•31% of ALL purchase decisions (both consumer packaged goods, e.g. packaged food, beauty and personal care, baby care, household cleaning products; and Non-CPG categories, e.g. consumer electronics and technology, entertainment items and content, etc.), involve some online or mobile activity.

•Digital shoppers spend 27% more per household per trip.

Shoppers cannot be classified simply as either digital or not. There are specific shopper segments, based on our attitudes toward experimentation. Nielsen Category Shopping Fundamentals Research breaks it down: 55% of shoppers are defined as "Occasional Trialists." These are middle-class people aged 50-59 who either live with a spouse or a partner and usually keep up with what's going on; although they don't go out of their way to try every new thing. The second group is the "Trendsetters" (27%). This is a more affluent group between 25 - 49. They have children or teenagers in the household and love to keep ahead of what's happening; love to try the newest, latest and greatest and telling others all about it. Lastly, we have the "Satisfied & Sedentary" (18%). These folks are 60+, less affluent and live alone. The S&S crowd knows what they like and don't feel the need to keep up with new things. Any of those sound like anyone you know?

Know what all of this means? Well, yes, shopping can be crazy-easy: like taking your store right of your pocket. But, it also means that retailers from your local grocery store to the biggest chains must think even more outside the box in getting your attention and your business, as the options for penetration and awareness are almost endless. It means they are going to have to hone in with even sharper, laser focus on you as an individual consumer - your likes, dislikes, preferences. Retailers are going to have to work harder and more creatively for your business and your loyalty. They have to woo you. Because you have infinite choices; more than ever before - no matter what kind of shopper you are.

Ah, power. Use it wisely.

Remember back in the day when Yellow Pages encouraged everyone to: "Let Your Fingers do the Walking," to quickly and efficiently thumb through its pages to locate any business or service imaginable? Which really came in handy when we were in the market for anything from pizza to electronics to specialty shoes to a plumber (this catchy phrase, by the way, is cited by AdAge.com as an Honorable Mention in the listing of "The Top 10 Slogans of the 20th Century"). We have become spoiled rotten, since the not-so-long-ago heyday of the Yellow Pages - including the very people who work in the techno-wonder companies that keep upping the ante and changing the game, as well as those who track all of the subsequent trends in consumer behavior. Because as consumers, all of us need or want something - food, shelter, clothing, electronics,

ARIES
 This is a good week for exercising that clever mind of yours. Luck will be with you in all endeavors you start. Luck is with you always because positive outlook attracts positive vibrations.
Soul Affirmation: I enjoy looking at the road of life sweeping just in front of me.
Lucky Numbers: 30, 41, 54,

TAURUS
 Your careless ways with money are going to be apparent this week. Financial mistakes you've made in the past will be especially painful. Don't conceal the pain from yourself. It is a warning that you should take steps to prevent future financial crisis.

Soul Affirmation: I change who I am by changing where I am going.
Lucky Numbers: 3, 20, 23

CANCER
 Everything seems to be moving along in a very pleasant way this week. Friends are helpful, family is supportive, even the sun seems to be shining just for you! Enjoy this harmony and count your blessings. Finish a task at work.
Soul Affirmation: The slowness of my week gives me time to refresh my energy.
Lucky Numbers: 12, 26, 36

LEO
 The bond that you established with your spiritual side works well in your relationship with a special person. Speak of the reality of the intangible qualities of life. Your lover will understand. Keep attention on the financial matters you've been dealing with.
Soul Affirmation: I obey the rules this week and avoid hassles.
Lucky Numbers: 3, 8, 24

VIRGO
 If you need some time to yourself this week, take it. You'll be doing yourself an act of kindness. Since you do so much for others, why not treat yourself as well as you treat them? Your world is the way you are living. Live with love.
Soul Affirmation: I get joy from giving good things.
Lucky Numbers: 19, 39, 42

LIBRA
 Remember that exercise is a wonderful tension-reliever if things get too intense this week. A walk over your lunch hour could make all the difference in how you feel this afternoon. Love yourself and reward yourself with perfect health and happiness.
Soul Affirmation: Faith keeps me calm in the storms of life.
Lucky Numbers: 44, 49, 51

SCORPIO
 You've done some of your own love homework. Hopefully you've had an opportunity to learn a new way of seeing the world and in that way you've found a way of loving that is more natural for you. The combination of sexiness and joyful focus can create you a wonderful love experience.
Soul Affirmation: I get joy from giving good things.
Lucky Numbers: 14, 23, 37

SAGITARIUS
 If you want to keep your positive outlook intact, avoid gossip and those who might want to just cry the blues for no good reason. You'll be happiest this week if you keep busy and keep your opinions to yourself. However, good advice is available from an older female relative.
Soul Affirmation: Love is easier than breathing.
Lucky Numbers: 12, 30, 50

CAPRICORN
 You've done a lot of things in life that no one has agreed with at the beginning. Finding agreement this week will be difficult, but it should not deter you from moving forward. Feeling sorry for your loneliness will discolor what you are doing. Be happy that you are alone.
Soul Affirmation: I get joy from giving good things.
Lucky Numbers: 3, 18, 31

AQUARIUS
 Eternal optimist, eternity is now. Get in touch with your hopefulness and be a beacon to others. Try not to be taken in by promises made by others or promises you've made to yourself. Concerning your own affairs, avoid contemplating lofty subjects and seeking long ranged solutions.
Soul Affirmation: Time is the greatest peacemaker of them all.
Lucky Numbers: 6, 28, 39

PISCES
 Some say optimism is fantasy. Suppose the good thing you're optimistic about never comes. This week you'll know that the joy of anticipating it is joy enough. Just the certainty of coming goodness is present goodness. The joy of tomorrow is available this week.
Soul Affirmation: This week is the week the Lord has made. I rejoice in it.
Lucky Numbers: 22, 36, 38

NEWS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

A grand jury will look into the shooting death of Trayvon Martin, Seminole County State Attorney Norm Wolfinger said Tuesday, March 20, 2012. The federal and state agencies are intervening in what attorneys call a botched investigation into the killing of the Michael Krop Senior High School student, who was killed Feb. 26 in Sanford, a town of 55,000 just north of Orlando. Trayvon, 17, on suspension from school, was staying at his father's girlfriend's house when he walked to a nearby 7-Eleven store to buy candy and iced tea. George Zimmerman, 28, a neighborhood watch volunteer with a long history of calling in everything from open garage doors to "suspicious characters," called police to say he had spotted someone who looked drugged, was walking too slowly in the rain, and appeared to be looking at people's houses. The unarmed teen was carrying Skittles and a can of Arizona iced tea.

My Day: Famous Women In Texas History

By Ester Davis, EDTV

I ran into Irma Hall at the airport last year. We only had a moment to chat, but she answered my question about her favorite movie role. The answer was "Crisis at Central High", which was only among her ideal roles. She was on her way to one of the studios to star in a segment of "Harry's Law", a television series. Born in Texas, Irma P. Hall, an award winning actress, graduated from Texas College and became an English and foreign languages public school teacher. But finally after 27 years of teaching, Irma Hall changed careers and decided to pursue acting full time. It was time to move from the classroom to the world wide stage and develop those creative juices. In the late 1980's, Irma Hall moved to Chicago where she performed with the Chicago Theatre Company, the Court Theatre, the Goodman Theatre and the Steppenwolf Theatre Company.

We remember her best for playing the maternal roles in the movies "Soul Food" and "Ladykillers" where she was recognized by the NAACP Image Award for Best Supporting Actress. Her acting career took momentum after a couple of episodes on "Dallas" as Tilly, the housekeeper. Two "Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders" television movies and the telefilm "Skyward" directed by Ron Howard and she is on her way to 'wherever they send me'. Ron Howard came calling in a second movie "Straight Talk" starring Dolly Parton and James Woods. She has received numerous awards for her performances in the movies. Irma Hall's personality and age make her a natural for casting as a middle-aged strong authority figure loved by all audiences.

Irma Hall is a busy woman. She works steadily on television and movies, local and national theatres. She is a versatile actress. In the Chicago Film Critics Award for Best Supporting Actress she portrayed the lovable Aunt T in "A Family Thing". The movie starring James Earl Jones and Robert Duvall, was co-written by Billy Bob Thornton.

Some years ago, as one of the principals opening the Repertory Theater in DeSoto, Texas, she worked both behind the 'camera' and performed in their plays as well.

And in 2011, Irma Hall was recognized in Dallas, as a "Woman of Excellence" at the 5th Annual Women of Excellence Award Night along with Fannie Bradford, Joan Ingram, Angela Nash, Karen Bradford and The Terrell Sisters. It was an evening to remember.

JOIN . . . us on Facebook.com/ Esterdavis. Thursdays, ION Media, 5:00 AM to 6:00 AM. See you then.

GARZA EARLY COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL WINS NATIONAL AWARD

Trinidad "Trini" Garza Early College High School has been named a winner in the high school category of the National Center of Urban School Transformation's 2012 Excellence in Urban Education Award. Garza is one of only three high schools in the country to win the award this year.

"To make it on any list that includes successful urban schools throughout the United States is humbling," said Dr. Janice Lombardi, principal at Garza. "We know that our academics are rigorous and our expectations are high - we make no excuses for expecting the best of our urban students. We know our faculty brings out the best in themselves and the best in our students."

Schools that met all the award's criteria were named finalists in early January, with site visits by judges later that month. Judges reviewed data and interviewed students, parents and every teacher as part of their analysis of Garza. The school will be honored at the organization's annual symposium in May in San Diego.

Garza currently serves 393 students, who are working toward earning their high school diplomas and an Associate's degree from Mountain View College in the Dallas County Community College District, or 48 core college credit hours toward a bachelor's degree. Opened in 2006, the high school employs its own staff and occupies space at Mountain View. The school is a Texas Education Agency school.

Students are 85 percent Hispanic and 13 percent African American, 86 percent of them are eligible for free/reduced lunch and 27 percent are limited English proficient.

Students are not accepted to Garza based on college readiness criteria. "In fact, the opposite is quite true," Lombardi said. "Many of our students would not ever go to college if they were not at our early college." Eighty-four percent of Garza students are among the first in their families to attend college.

The teaching approach at the school considers the whole student: their behavior, their academics and their strengths and weaknesses. "We have a culture of learning and college readiness here," she said. "Our instructional emphasis is effort-based; working hard does matter."

Two other Dallas ISD schools have won the Excellence in Urban Education Award before, Nathan Adams Elementary School in 2010 and James B. Bonham Elementary School in 2009.

The award celebrates urban schools that serve low-income communities and overcome multiple challenges, yet their students are performing well academically. Since 2006, the Excellence in Urban Education Award program has recognized 62 elementary, middle and high schools in 40 school districts and 17 states.

For information on the award, visit the National Center for Urban School Transformation's Web site at ncust.org.

CHLOÉ'S WEEKLY GREEN TIPS: START THE YEAR OFF RIGHT! EAT HEALTHY AND FEEL GREAT! GET SMART ABOUT SOY!

Easy ways to eat soy

Look for simple places to swap soy in for other foods and drinks. Snack on soy nuts instead of cheese; use soy nut butter instead of peanut butter for a change of pace (you may not be able to tell the difference!). Soy milk is a great alternative for the lactose intolerant (just avoid sweetened ones, which pack extra sugars).

Soybeans and tofu take a bit more prep, but not much. Here's how to make them taste great, fast:

- Steam or boil edamame for 3 to 5 minutes. You can purée them into hummus instead of chickpeas, or just sprinkle the pods with sea salt, chili powder, Chinese five-spice powder, or any other spice you like, and squeeze the beans into your mouth.

- Because it's so soft, "silken" tofu works well as a thickener for sauces, dips, and smoothies. The denser texture of "firm" or "extra firm" tofu works best for stir-frying, grilling, or baking. Just remove extra moisture first so it's not mushy: Lay a clean kitchen towel on a cutting board and place tofu on top. Cover with another clean towel and cutting board, then place a heavy pot on top. Allow it to rest for about 1 hour. Cut into cubes or strips and cook. Tofu will soak up the flavor of any dish it's in; you can also marinate it as you would meat and poultry.
- Prepare whole soybeans the same way you would other beans: Cooked into soups or chili, added to Mexican dishes, or tossed cold in salads, they bring new flavor to your favorite dishes.

INTERIM SUPERINTENDENT NAMED VP OF STATE BUSINESS ORGANIZATION

Dallas ISD Interim Superintendent Alan King

Interim Superintendent Alan King, who also serves as Dallas ISD's Chief Financial Officer, was recently elected to the Texas Association of School Business Officials (TASBO) Board of Directors as its vice president. He will serve as vice president for a year, serve as president-elect for a year and then take the reigns as the organization's president.

King, a CPA with 33 years of experience in school business management, joined Dallas ISD as CFO before being named Interim Superintendent of Schools. He came on board just as state budget cuts created a deficit for many districts across Texas. Previously, he served as Deputy Superintendent in Lewisville ISD for 12 years.

"It's a tremendous honor to be selected for a leadership position with TASBO," King said. "The organization is instrumental in helping school districts throughout Texas understand the complexity of sound financial accounting principles."

TASBO, the largest organization of its kind in the U.S., has about 5,550 members and 30 regional affiliates representing more than 900 school districts in Texas. Established in 1946, TASBO began as a forum for exchanging ideas and sharing information about school business operations in Texas. Area chefs prepare "Bits and Bites" to help El Centro College culinary arts students

For "Bits and Bites" of spirits, sweets and savory things, El Centro College is the place to be on Sun., March 25, as area chefs lend their hands and their talents to raise funds for ECC's culinary arts program. Those funds will help the college expand its kitchen facilities and services so that faculty members can nurture the next generation of talented food and hospitality experts in the Dallas/Fort Worth area.

Good food, great chefs and learning how to cook are popular on TV -- "Hell's Kitchen," "Chopped" and "Top Chef-Texas," for example. All of those chefs and everything they learned started with some formal training. More than 150 accomplished chefs in the Dallas area got their start with the Food and Hospitality Institute at El Centro College.

Many of those chefs are volunteering their time and skills for the "Bits and Bites" special event to help raise funds for the institute on Sun., March 25, from 4 to 7 p.m. The evening's festivities will feature foods prepared by El Centro's former students and friends of the college. A variety of spirits will be served as well. The cost is $40 in advance and $45 at the door; the event will be held on the downtown campus of El Centro College, 801 Main St.

Friends, students, staff members and faculty volunteers will transform the dining room, kitchen and Student Center at El Centro College into a showcase for this popular culinary arts fundraiser. This year's honorary chair for the event is

House and Cantina Laredo (posthumously); and * Gene Street, who recently opened Liberty Burger and founded more than a dozen other concepts in Dallas.

Each will be recognized with the 2012 Founders Award because they have been innovative risk-takers; have created thousands of jobs; and have employed thousands of Dallas-area citizens in their numerous establishments.

Tickets can be purchased in advance online at www.foundation.dcccd.edu; click on "donate now"; complete the form; click on "other" and enter "Bits and Bites" in the comment box. Purchase tickets by mail with checks made payable to "DCCCD Foundation" and send to: El Centro College Business Division, ATTN: Cindy Bozzelli-Duke 801 Main St., Dallas TX 75202.

(AP)- The NFL handed down sweeping and unprecedented punishment Wednesday for bounties paid out on big hits, suspending New Orleans Saints coach Sean Payton without pay for next season and indefinitely banning the team's former defensive coordinator, Gregg Williams, who now works for the St.

Louis Rams. Payton is the first head coach suspended by the league for any reason. He is accused of trying to cover up a system of extra cash payouts that NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell called "particularly unusual and egregious" and "totally unacceptable."

Dallas Area Juniors Attend ATA National Tennis Workshop

During the weekend of January 20-22, 2012, John Wilkerson, world renowned coach of Zina Garrison who reached the singles finals at Wimbledon, and coordinator of the workshop was astounded with the success of the event and positive reaction from the over 40 participants. "It was fantastic", commented Wilkerson, a former player at Texas Southern University who played tennis under the legendary Herb Probst, coach and pioneer in Black tennis during the eras of Althea Gibson and Arthur Ashe. Plans are underway by the ATA to host future junior workshops in other cities for these talented players as they prepare for the National Championships in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida in August, 2012.

Where everyone is Loved

Hip Hop Cowboys, a new rodeo event combining urban music with cowboy culture, rode into Mesquite Arena on Saturday, March 17. This first-ever event to combine the sport of rodeo with hip hop, rap, zydeco, blues and house music featured an appearance from rapper Juvenile and dozens of the top rodeo competitors from across the country.

"We want to bring the sport of rodeo to everyone," stated Damon Leffall, CEO of Hip Hop Cowboys. "Hip Hop Cowboys is about non-stop action – the 'extreme sport' of rodeo combined with live hip hop, R&B, soul, zydeco, blues and more – it's going to be a great time and will open up a lot of people's eyes to rodeo."

Doors opened at 6:30 p.m. and the show started at 7 p.m. with a grand entry rodeo parade. The rodeo action began immediately, featuring exciting events such as bull riding, team roping, bareback riding, steer wrestling and lady's barrel racing. Hip Hop Cowboys also included relay racing, a fast-paced rodeo event that thrills the crowd with its non-stop action of riders on horseback racing each other around the arena in relay style. Hip Hop Cowboys is an open rodeo that will feature the top 10 best competitors in each event.

The first rodeo in the U.S. to include a hip hop DJ, Hip Hop Cowboys redefine the rodeo experience with current urban music. Headlining the event was Juvenile, a rapper and hip hop artist from Louisiana best known for his smash hit,

"Back That Thang Up." Southern soul artist TK Soul also performed live blues and zydeco. In a twist only found at Hip Hop Cowboy, professional bull rider Craig Jackson, famous for his fearless bull riding and trademark dreadlocks, also performed songs from his new rap album.

"Music is the lifeblood of the youth culture," said Leffall. "Combining urban music like hip hop and rap with the sport of rodeo makes for a powerful combination."
